

Abstract

A service control manager (SCM) tool execution mechanism enables SCM users to execute SCM tools across a set of defined distributed nodes (systems). It provides a secure mechanism, referred to a distributed task facility (DTF), to integrate different operations and execute the operations across the set of distributed nodes.